I fervently wish to send you my / our sincere congratulations on the birth of your first child (or second, third) and for the birth so fast and without sequelae that you have managed to face, dear Ana.

As soon as you are back and sitting at home, I will be so glad if you let me know so I can come see you and be able to meet your child and, at the same time, give you a big hug and celebrate it together.

See you soon dear, I look forward the celebration
